

Doctors Know the Danger of Alcohol in Kidney Remedies

Remember this—Kidney-Wort Tablets CANNOT contain alcohol.

MISS SUSIE LANG, attacked by Kidney Disease, was ready to give up hope.

Miss Susie Lang of Philadelphia, Pa., wrote Sept. 26, 1903: "Two years ago I was attacked with kidney trouble. It was impossible for me to sleep at night from pains in my back. Several preparations proved of no avail. Two specialists on kidney troubles were unable to improve my condition. I was in despair when Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets were recommended to me. In less than a month the pains disappeared and my former health began to return. I was recently examined by an eminent physician, who told me my kidneys were in a healthy condition."

Medical men whose opinion entitles them to respectful consideration deplore the use of liquid kidney remedies because of the deadly alcohol in them. The reaction from alcohol administered to diseased kidneys is inevitable, harmful and usually fatal.

ST. LOUIS POSTAL OUTLOOK STORMY.

Postmaster Is Said to Have Selected His Assistant, but Withholds Announcement.

BARTHOLOMT BECOMES BOLD.

Congressman Spends a Few Moments With Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock and Says Many Things.

Who will be Assistant Postmaster to Frank P. Wyman? More than one Republican politician of St. Louis would like to have the question answered, and at once. If the straits continued much longer, some of them may wear out their nerves wondering what their chances are, while the curiosity of others is not supposed to be of the vicarious variety.

Several stories are current concerning the appointment of Mr. Wyman as Postmaster, and most of them bearing on the appointment of his assistant. The name of George H. Bartholomew, Chief Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, is one mentioned. He is related to Congressman Bartholomew by marriage.

Postmaster F. W. Baumhoff is also mentioned. Another is Henry Wyman, brother of Frank Wyman. Still another is George R. Weinberger, former Jury Commissioner.

Some of them deny they are candidates for the position. Some of them are wondering what influence Congressman Bartholomew will have in the appointment. Mr. Wyman said yesterday that he could not say whether he had picked his man, and would not be ready to do so for several days. He has told politicians the same.

According to a story, which Congressman Joy is credited with bringing back from Washington, Bartholomew was a very angry Congressman when the President informed him that he had decided to appoint Mr. Wyman as Postmaster. He told other candidates that he knew nothing of it. Some of them looked dubious.

Finally he made an appointment with Joy to meet him in the office of Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock at 10 o'clock the next day. All three were there.

"Mr. Secretary," began Mr. Bartholomew, "I have brought Mr. Joy here to have you tell him whether I ever recommended Mr. Wyman's appointment or you ever spoke to me about it. Did either occur?"

"No, I believe not," Mr. Joy told the President that I favored the appointment of Wyman."

"Then, sir," Bartholomew said to have declared, "the President has misinformed me if you are correct."

Mr. Joy is said to think a good deal more of Bartholomew's grit than he used to.

Following this "showdown," Mr. Bartholomew said to have gone to the President's office, where he was told that the President had decided to appoint Mr. Wyman as Postmaster. The same politicians who tell this story assert that under this instruction, George Bartholomew will be Assistant Postmaster and another relative of Bartholomew, Barney Nisner, will take Bartholomew's place.

Baumhoff denies the story and says that he would stand no show for the Assistant postmastership, even if he wished he was not likely to do at the present high price of some of his old friends.

WANDERER IN KANSAS CITY.

Local Folk Leaders Will Hold Meeting This Evening.

Congressman W. D. Vandiver departed last night for Kansas City, where he will spend to-day discussing politics. To-morrow he expects to be in St. Joseph.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the local Folk Club will be held this evening at the Equitable building, when plans will be discussed. It is expected that about forty or fifty persons will be present.

FATHER JAMES T. COFFEY APPOINTED ST. LEO'S PASTOR

With Father F. G. Holweck, He Is Added to the Council of Consultors—Aggressive Advocate of Civic and Social Purity, and His Selection Is Taken as Indicating the Policy Archbishop John J. Glennon Will Pursue in Administering the Affairs of the Diocese—Concursus to Be Held to Select His Successor at St. John's.

FATHER J. T. COFFEY, New pastor of St. Leo's, and consultor. Who were appointed to their new positions yesterday by Archbishop John J. Glennon.

Archbishop John J. Glennon yesterday appointed the Reverend Father James Thomas Coffey, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, to the pastorate of St. Leo's Catholic Church.

Father Coffey was also appointed a member of the Council of Consultors in the place of Archbishop J. J. Hart, whom he succeeds as pastor of St. Leo's. The Reverend Father F. G. Holweck, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church, was appointed to the Council of Consultors. He succeeds Monsignor Henry Muehleisen, formerly Vicar General of the Archdiocese.

A concursus will be held within a short time, and of the candidates who present themselves for examination, the Archbishop will choose a pastor of St. John's Church to succeed Father Coffey.

Father Coffey, while pastor, de facto of St. Leo's Church from yesterday, will remain at St. John's until the 1st of January. He will place the affairs of the parish in readiness for his successor, who, it is thought, will be named by that time. The Archbishop did not yesterday announce the appointment of a Vicar General, but it is thought that he will do so before the expiration of the present week.

Since Archbishop Hart was promoted from the pastorate of St. Leo's to the hierarchy of the Catholic Church, the course of Archbishop Glennon has been watched with great interest. This and the vicar generalship were recognized as being the first appointments of great importance he would make.

OUTLINES POLICY.

The selection of Father Coffey is taken as an indication of the policy the Archbishop wishes to pursue in the diocese. In his letter to Father Coffey he lays particular stress upon his labors to promote civic and social purity, and his action is taken as the strongest endorsement of the course pursued by the retiring pastor of St. John's.

St. John's is an irremovable rectory, and it is known that Father Coffey, when the matter of St. Leo's pastorate was first broached to him, expressed himself as wishing to remain. He accepted only after being urged by the Archbishop.

The parish to which he goes is one of the most thickly populated and best organized in the city. It was founded by Archbishop Hart, and Father Coffey is its second pastor. Its church, its rectory and its schools are all practically new.

The debt upon them was greatly reduced by the gifts of Archbishop Hart, and although considerable remains, it is thought it will be cleared away in a short time by the labors of the new pastor.

Father Coffey is perhaps the best-known priest in St. Louis. For more than five years he has aggressively combated saloons and intemperance, and has lectured in nearly every parish of the diocese. He was a frequent speaker at St. Leo's during the pastorate of Archbishop Hart, and has a large acquaintance in the parish.

Through his efforts the anti-vice crusade was started and prosecuted against the saloons of that part of the city surrounding St. John's Church. He was a frequent speaker at St. Leo's during the pastorate of Archbishop Hart, and has a large acquaintance in the parish.

It is understood that he will carry on the same strenuous work in his new charge. St. Leo's has the strongest Knights of Father Mathew organization and K. F. M. Woman's Auxiliary in the State, and these will materially assist the new pastor.

Father Gavie and Father Lloyd, who have been assistants at St. Leo's for several years, will be continued in their present positions. Their acquaintance with the parish and the methods there in vogue will be of assistance to Father Coffey.

TO HOLD CONCURSUS.

Because of St. John's being an irremovable rectory, Father Coffey was compelled to resign before he could accept a new position. Irremovable rectories are not filled simply by the appointment of the Archbishop.

The law requires that a concursus be held, and that all priests of the diocese who have been priests for ten years or more are eligible to enter the examinations. These examinations are upon theology, philosophy, canon law, all requisites for admission to holy orders. They are conducted by three of the synodical examiners, selected from the thirteen synodical examiners, by the Archbishop.

From those who stand the tests the Archbishop makes his appointment. Should no one enter the concursus, as was the case several years ago when the irremovable rectory of the Catholic Church of Edina, Mo., was to be filled, the Archbishop applies to Rome for permission to make the appointment upon his own selection.

The law requires that ten days' notice be given of the concursus, and that it be held within six months after the removal of the former rectory. Priests are of the opinion that the Archbishop will have the concursus conducted at the earliest possible time.

The Archbishop's council of consultors is made up of six members. By the promotion of Archbishop Hart, and the death of Monsignor Muehleisen two of these were removed. The duty of the council is to confer with the Archbishop

FORMERLY CRAWFORD'S.

On Saturday, December 5th, we bought from the Receiver, by order of the United States District Court, the entire stock, good will, leases and fixtures of D. Crawford & Co., for the largest amount in cash ever paid in St. Louis for a mercantile concern. That the purchase was a good one is proven by the fact that two different parties have made us an offer of a very large sum in cash above the price paid for the bargain we secured in the purchase. Both offers were declined, with the information that this business was not for sale at any price or on any terms. We had discussed for months the advisability of establishing a large and permanent Mercantile Business in the solid and rapidly-growing city of St. Louis on the first opportunity. We are proud of the fact that we secured the Crawford & Co. business. This house has been one of the landmarks of St. Louis. It has been conducted on broad, honest, liberal lines. The tag of D. Crawford & Co. on a garment is a guarantee of merit. There is no shoddy merchandise here to sell—no apologies to make for past misstatements.

Manufacturing, Transportation and Mercantile Companies have become so large in recent years that the personnel of the owners or managers is unknown or forgotten. We are glad it is so, because we dislike to speak of personal names in advertising a mercantile concern. In this instance, however, the St. Louis people may wish to know

CITY MILK SUPPLY PROBLEM.

Petebridge Tells Missouri Dairy-men They Should Solve It.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Clinton, Mo., Dec. 8.—The problem of city milk supply during the World's Fair was interestingly discussed by Robert Petebridge, St. Louis Milk Inspector, before the Missouri State Dairy Association to-day. He analyzed present conditions, and declared that if Missouri farmers and railroad rates do not meet the growing demands of the city, St. Louis might be forced to go to Chicago, and possibly to Wisconsin dairies for milk during next year.

NEGRO SNATCHES HER PURSE.

Mrs. Lizzie Robinson Loses $2.50 and Money Order.

Mrs. Lizzie Robinson, a servant employed at No. 377 West Pine boulevard, was held up and robbed by a negro, as she was on her way home at 8 o'clock last evening. The negro approached Mrs. Robinson, and as she passed him he snatched her purse, containing a receipt for a money order and $2.50 in cash. After securing her money the negro ran south on Spring avenue and escaped. Mrs. Robinson was badly frightened by her experience and is permanently cured. Patrolman Lawrence Walsh for the remainder of journey homeward.

Notified of Post-Office Robbery.
Post-Office Inspector Dice's office received word yesterday that a post office at Altheimer, Ark., had been broken into and robbed. The office received no particulars about the robbery, but as the office is one through which considerable business is transacted, it is believed the theft may amount to quite a sum of money.

SORE THROAT

Are often the forerunners of pneumonia and consumption. If your lungs feel sore, lose no time but get a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and use it according to directions. You will find quick relief and be permanently cured.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

THE ONE THAT CURES
I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and know it to be a valuable remedy and the best on the market. I voluntarily state that it saved me from a quick burial by curing me of consumption, into which I was drifting as the result of a heavy cold. I must give Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup all the credit that it deserves. F. J. Jacobs, 145 E. 14th Street, New York City.

AVOID SUBSTITUTES. Always ask for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the old reliable which has been on the market for fifty years. It is the only one in the wrapper. Beware of imitations, they are dangerous and do not cure. A. C. MEYER & CO., Baltimore, Md.
